

Just installed the Oase Jet Lightning in a round raised round indian stone wall to get a wishing well effect with the water feature pointing straight up.

When switched on this gives a great display of coloured light at varying colours using there rgb leds and varying hight to a max of 1 mtr (looks stunning ).

These units dont need to sit in there own resevoir, they can stand away or point back to it in an ark which also gives a great display making these units a very versitile unit.

We will be using these again.
